

Cost-efficient NOX reduction at running combustion plants

With the support from EU and ELY, Flametech develops efficient nitrogen oxide reduction methods and tools for running combustion plants.

A market study and a technical concept are developed in the project aiming at reduced NO_x -emissions.

